NEWS

ESA and NSO sponsor entrepreneurship research
The Netherlands Space Office (NSO) and the European Space Agency (ESA) have decided to co-finance a study on entrepreneurship and innovation in the space sector with a grant of 150,000 EUR. Elco van Burg arranged the funding for this PhD study, based on a number of pilot studies done by MSc students, and he will co-supervise the PhD student with Joep Cornelissen.

The objective of the project is to analyze entrepreneurship and innovation patterns in space sector in The Netherlands. These patterns will be compared with a number of other ESA member states. The entrepreneurial and innovation diversity in those countries will be related to the institutional pressures, and valorization and technology transfer infrastructures. This research project will deliver important insights in how rules, regulations and facilitating programs impact entrepreneurship and innovation as well as in how these rules, regulations and facilitating programs could be adapted to foster entrepreneurship and innovation.
Registration opened for KIN Summer School

We kindly invite early career researchers (PhD candidates, post doctoral researchers and junior faculty) to participate in the 4th KIN Summer School to be held in Amsterdam, June 29 – July 2, 2014. This Summer School is organized by the KIN Research Group of the VU University Amsterdam (www.kinresearch.nl) together with ABRI. During 4 intensive days participants and faculty will discuss research in the field of IT, Knowledge and Innovation. The teaching faculty consists of an international group of professors, known for their research in the field: Samer Faraj (McGill University, Canada), Raghu Garud (Penn State University, USA), Davide Nicolini (Warwick Business School, UK), Hans Berends and Marleen Huysman (KIN Research, VU University Amsterdam).

Participants will engage in intensive sessions with faculty focusing on recent theoretical and methodological advances and are asked to be well prepared; a list of 15 – 20 will be sent upon acceptance. The format provides ample opportunity to discuss related topics such as process and practice based research methods, reviewing and getting published. In small groups we will also discuss participants’ own work in progress.

Deadline for applications is May 1st, 2014.
For further information please visit the ABRI website www.abri.vu.nl/en/events/courses-and-workshops/kin/index.asp, or contact Hans Quené.
