UPCOMING EVENTS

Junior Researcher Graduation Day - 27 May
ABRI would like to invite you to the Junior Researchers Graduation Event. Our last cohort of Junior Researchers (this is the last year ABRI carries out the JR programme) will present their first paper in front of a panel of representatives who will ask them questions and make suggestions to improve the paper. Afterwards they will all receive their JR diploma and we’ll close the event with celebration drinks.

Congratulations to all Junior Researchers and specially to the four who will be presenting during the graduation who will continue as PhD at ABRI-FEWEB.

The JR Graduation will take place on Friday May 27th starting at 14:00 in room BV 0H-53 (BelleVUe building). Join us!

ARCA Seminar Margareth Abernethy - 30 May
Margareth Abernethy (University of Melbourne) will present her paper (co-authored with Henri Dekker and Jennifer Grafton): “The Role of Accounting-based Controls in the Management of Strategic Change”. This seminar will take place on Monday, May 30 from 12.00 to 14.00 in 8A-44 in the Main building. To register for the ARCA seminar, please send an email to: l.m.abinta@vu.nl
PhD Summer School 6-8 June
On 6-8 June 2016, ABRI will offer a unique opportunity to participate in a PhD level Summer School on “Key Theories in Organization Science”. The summer school is open to - and free of charge for all PhD students of the Faculty and Economics and Business Administration.

Registration is possible until Thursday, May 26. The 3-day intensive Summer School will provide PhD Candidates with an advanced understanding of the most prominent theories in organization studies, and will be taught by Dr. Riku Ruotsalainen (VU), Dr. Jukka Luoma from Aalto University School of Business, Finland and Dr. Christopher Wickert (VU).

The sessions are designed to broaden your theoretical scope as a researcher, and will address amongst others theories related to the formation, evolution and ‘aging’ of organizations and their structures, as well as organizational legitimacy, image, identity and status, sustainability, and corporate social responsibility.
